

Colorado State University DVM Preliminary Transfer Application

Thank you for your interest in the Doctor of Veterinary Medicine program at Colorado State University. Transfer opportunities are dependent on position openings for the class into which the student wishes to transfer. Often transfer openings occur very close to the start of the school year. As such, timely communication from the applicant is paramount to successful integration into the program. If you are notified of a transfer opening, additional documentation and application materials will be required. To familiarize yourself with the process, please review the complete transfer policy at:

Candidates must be advised that DVM curriculum from one school rarely matches that of another. As a result, transferring almost always involves loss of time, commonly a year. If accepted as a transfer student, are you comfortable with the fact that this could involve a year or more of "make-up" classes and/or the repetition of courses in order to meet CSU graduation requirements?
